VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The Talking Book Machine Repair Program is in need of a few volunteers. No experience needed. We will teach you all you need to know. We work the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays of each month in the garage at the Global Research Center from 1 to 4 in the afternoon. The New York State Library in Albany serves more than 30,000 clients in upstate New York who are visually impaired or otherwise unable to use books. The machines and books are supplied free of charge and there is no charge for mailing the machines and books. The Library sends us the machines and once we have completed all necessary repairs, we return them to Albany. The National Library Service for the Blind and Print Handicapped, a division of the Library of Congress supplies us with the necessary parts. If you are interested in helping with this important program, please contact Millie at gittinger@verizon.net.

Our speaker is Michael Diana.

The Glen-Sanders: Schenectady's First Family

The founding of Schenectady witnessed many intrepid settlers whose legacies live on to this day. Among these illustrious names, the Glen Sanders stand out. Michael Diana will recount the remarkable tale of how Alexander Glen made his way from Kirkaldy, Scotland to the Mohawk Valley in 1659. You will also see how the kindness and wit of his son, John Alexander, saved many during the Schenectady's darkest hour.

PRESENT

J.B. Priestly's "psychologically adept mystery" . . (London Evening Standard)

An Inspector Calls

Directed by Patrick White

The action of the play takes place in a large American city in 1945, where a young woman commits suicide and an eminently respectable family is subject to a routine inquiry in connection with the death. An inspector calls to interrogate the family, and during the course of the evening all members of the group are implicated in some way. All of them knew her in one capacity or another. The family, closely knit and friendly at the beginning of the evening, is shown up as selfish, self-centered or cowardly, its good humor turning to acid, before the evening is over.
