VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The Talking Book Machine Repair Program is in need of a few volunteers. No experience needed. We will teach you all you need to know. We work the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays of each month in the garage at the Global Research Center from 1 to 4 in the afternoon. The New York State Library in Albany serves more than 30,000 clients in upstate New York who are visually impaired or otherwise unable to use books. The machines and books are supplied free of charge and there is no charge for mailing the machines and books. The Library sends us the machines and once we have completed all necessary repairs, we return them to Albany. The National Library Service for the Blind and Print Handicapped, a division of the Library of Congress supplies us with the necessary parts. If you are interested in helping with this important program, please contact Millie at gittinger@verizon.net.

PRESENT

J.B. Priestly's "psychologically adept mystery" . . (London Evening Standard)

An Inspector Calls

Directed by Patrick White

The action of the play takes place in a large American city in 1945, where a young woman commits suicide and an eminently respectable family is subject to a routine inquiry in connection with the death. An inspector calls to interrogate the family, and during the course of the evening all members of the group are implicated in some way. All of them knew her in one capacity or another. The family, closely knit and friendly at the beginning of the evening, is shown up as selfish, self-centered or cowardly, its good humor turning to acid, before the evening is over.
